

Brinker Capital Market Barometer

The weight of the evidence leans positive, in line with our modest overweight to risk across portfolios.

SHORT-TERM FACTORS (< 6 months)

	CHANGE	NEGATIVE	NEUTRAL	POSITIVE
Momentum				●	Market momentum still solid
Trend				●	Trend remains supportive
Investor sentiment			●		Survey data more optimistic but significant equity fund outflows
Seasonality				●	4Q tends to be the most constructive for equities

INTERMEDIATE-TERM FACTORS (6-36 months)

	CHANGE	NEGATIVE	NEUTRAL	POSITIVE
Fiscal policy			●		Fiscal stimulus potentially offset by tariffs in 2020
Monetary policy				●	Fed likely to pause in December, but remain accommodative
Inflation				●	Global inflation low and inflation expectations muted
Interest rate environment			●		US yield curve has largely "un-inverted" but more progress is needed
Macroeconomic			●		Continued strength in US labor market; US/China trade war concerns
Business sentiment		●			CEO confidence has fallen sharply; small biz confidence ticked higher
Consumer sentiment				●	Measures have declined slightly but remain at elevated levels
Corporate earnings			●		US earnings growth slowing but positive; weaker ex-US
Credit environment				●	Credit spreads have tightened; little sign of stress in financial conditions

LONG-TERM FACTORS (36+ months)

	CHANGE	NEGATIVE	NEUTRAL	POSITIVE
Valuation			●		US equity valuations at long-term averages; more attractive ex-US
Business cycle			●		Longest expansion on record but also the slowest
Demographics			●		Mixed (US and emerging markets positive; developed intl negative)

SUMMARY

The short-term factors are unchanged. Trend and momentum remain solid. Investor sentiment, a contrarian indicator, remains neutral as survey data shows more optimism, but we've seen record outflows from equity products. Seasonality is a positive as the fourth quarter has historically been the strongest for equity markets.

Intermediate-term factors remain neutral to positive overall. CEO confidence has fallen meaningfully, likely impacted by trade rhetoric. While optimism surrounding a phase one trade deal has improved, it remains a risk to our otherwise positive macroeconomic outlook.

The long-term factors are unchanged. The duration of the current economic recovery has been the longest on record, but it has also been the slowest, helping to prolong the expansion. Our outlook on the economy remains positive over the intermediate-term and we see few signs of recession; however, we are decidedly in the second half of the business cycle.
